

EVERWISE HALL

The Much Honoured Ambassador Otto Federico von Feigenblatt of Braemar,

Baron of Braemar, KHS, KM, MA, PhD, EdD, ALM, FRAI

Andean Parliament Special Envoy for Education and Head of the House of Feigenblatt

CURRICULUM VITAE

Name: Otto Federico von Feigenblatt of Braemar

Styles: The Much Honoured and His Excellency

Title: Baron of Braemar

Seats: Everwise Hall (Florida) and Braemar Court (Scotland)

Brief Bio: The Much Honoured Ambassador Otto Federico von Feigenblatt of Braemar, Baron of Braemar, KM, KHS, MA, PhD, EdD, ALM, FRAI is currently serving as the Andean Parliament Special Envoy for Education, a cabinet level appointment made by the Secretary General. His Lordship is the author of over one hundred peer-reviewed academic articles and several books. The Baron is an elected academician of the prestigious Royal Academy of Doctors of Spain, the Royal Academy of Economics and Financial Sciences of Spain, the Academy of Diplomacy of the Kingdom of Spain, the Academy of History of Ecuador, and the National Academy of History and Geography of Mexico. His Lordship has received important international accolades for his research and for his impact as a scholar such as being knighted by His Majesty King Felipe VI of Spain with the Order of Isabella the Catholic, the Medal of the French Senate, the Dr. Vicente Rocafuerte Decoration from the National Assembly of the Republic of Ecuador, the Condecoración Simón Bolívar of the Andean Parliament, the medal of Central American Merit of the Central American Parliament, and the Grand Cross of the Order of President Arosemena of the Ministry of the Interior of Panama, among many others. The ambassador has also received more than ten honorary doctorates for his research, and his latest book is titled "Ethics in Social Science Research" and it was published by Springer Nature. His Lordship served as ambassador and deputy permanent observer of the International Youth Organization to the United Nations from 2023-2024 before moving on to his current position. On the 14th of November 2025 Ambassador Otto Federico von Feigenblatt succeeded by assignation to the Lordship and Barony of Braemar, one of Great Britain's oldest and most prestigious titles of nobility.

Education:

- 2020-2022 Master of Liberal Arts, HARVARD UNIVERSITY, Boston, Massachusetts, Master of Liberal Arts in Extension Studies, Field: Anthropology and Archaeology
- 2021-2022 Graduate Certificate, HARVARD UNIVERSITY, Boston, Massachusetts, Graduate Certificate in International Relations
- 2019-2021 Graduate Certificate, HARVARD UNIVERSITY, Boston, Massachusetts, Graduate Certificate in Social Justice

EVERWISE HALL

The Much Honoured Ambassador Otto Federico von Feigenblatt of Braemar,

Baron of Braemar, KHS, KM, MA, PhD, EdD, ALM, FRAI

Andean Parliament Special Envoy for Education and Head of the House of Feigenblatt

- 2013-2016 Doctor of Education, NOVA SOUTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, EdD in Higher Education Leadership
- 2008-2013 Doctor of Philosophy, NOVA SOUTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, PhD Conflict Analysis and Resolutions
- 2007-2008 Master of Arts, CHULALONGKORN UNIVERSITY, Bangkok, Thailand, Master of Arts in International Development
- 2003-2007 Bachelor of Social Science, RITSUMEIKAN ASIA PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, Beppu, Japan, Bachelor of Social Science in Asia Pacific Studies

Academic Appointments:

- Dean of Global Affairs, Latin Division, Keiser University, Florida
- Professor and Chair, Graduate Education Department, Latin Division, Keiser University, Florida
- Honorary Professor, School of Education, University of Southampton (United Kingdom)
- Extraordinary Professor and International Chair of Educational Administration, Catholic University of Murcia, Spain

Academies:

- Academician of Honor, Royal Academy of Doctors of Spain (Madrid, Spain)
- Numbered Academician, National Academy of History of Mexico
- Foreign Member, National Academy of History of Ecuador
- Corresponding Academician, Royal Academy of Economics and Financial Sciences of Spain
- Corresponding Academician, Royal Academy of Cordoba (Spain)
- Fellow, Royal Anthropological Institute of Great Britain

Knightoods:

- Royal Order of Isabella the Catholic (Kingdom of Spain)
- Sovereign Military Hospitaller Order of Stain John of Jersualem, of Rhodes and of Malta
- Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem (Holy See)

Current Diplomatic Posts:

- Ambassador and Permanent Representative accredited to the Central American Parliament (PARLACEN)
- Andean Parliament Special Envoy for Education
- Honorary Consul of the Republic of Namibia for the State of Georgia, United State of America

EVERWISE HALL

The Much Honoured Ambassador Otto Federico von Feigenblatt of Braemar,

Baron of Braemar, KHS, KM, MA, PhD, EdD, ALM, FRAI

Andean Parliament Special Envoy for Education and Head of the House of Feigenblatt

Recent Books:

- Ethics in Social Science Research: Current Insights and Practical Strategies. Published by Springer Nature (2025)
- Artificial Intelligence and Education: an Ongoing Dialogue. Published by Editorial Octaedro (2024)
- Trends and Debates in American Education: A Hispanic Perspective. Published by Octaedro Editorial (2023)
- Honor, Loyalty, and Merit: The Culture of the Contemporary Spanish Nobility. Published by Octaedro Editorial (2022)